

ALEXANDRIA.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 11.

THE POLICY of the wise men of all the great nations of the world has been to oblige, as far as possible, all evidences of civil war, as it is only in accordance with human nature that the defeated in such wars should feel sore, and as the constant irritation of such a sore is by no means conducive to the general welfare. But the majority of the people of the North are not wise, and consequently they fill all the public buildings, from the Capitol of the reunited country down, with the most conspicuous reminders of the war between the States. It was only last week that pictures of three northern officers in that war were suspended from the walls of West Point, and the man who presented them, Mr. Childs of Philadelphia, applauded therefor throughout the North. And yet the South is taxed to keep up all the buildings referred to, and her people visit them, and her sons are cadets at West Point.

GEN. GRONER SAYS:

"There are probably twelve or fifteen thousand republicans in Virginia who support the straight ticket in federal elections, but who in our State campaigns vote with the democrats. These men are afraid of negro domination in local affairs, and prefer that the control of the State offices shall be in the hands of the democratic, or white man's party. Their votes this year, added to those of the bolters, ought to overturn our normal majority of several thousand and give the State to the democratic candidate for Governor by a majority of twenty thousand."

The General is right. The danger of negro rule, or the rule of vicious white men by means of negro votes, is so great in all the southern States, that the people of those States interested in the moral and material welfare thereof, irrespective of political affiliation, have determined to resort to the use of every legitimate measure to avoid that danger.

IN REFERRING to the legal application of the lash to a wife beater in Baltimore last Wednesday, the American of that city says: "Physical pain is the only punishment which such criminals dread, and its recollection the one salutary deterrent." True. But there are many other crimes for which the public whipping post is the most effective of all deterrents. It is senseless gabble to talk about the debasing influence of the whipping post. The man who deserves such punishment cannot be more debased by the infliction thereof. The material advantages of the whipping post are also immense. Its reestablishment in Virginia would so reduce the criminal expenses of the State, that, with a higher liquor license, she could pay the interest on her public debt—all that the creditors ask—without trouble, or even inconvenience.

IN A reported interview with ex Mayor Lamb, of Norfolk, one of General Mahone's few white supporters, published in yesterday's New York Press, Mr. Lamb is represented as saying that in a fair election the negroes have a majority of the voters of this State. If this be so, then the census office may as well be closed, and the immense sums of money expended in taking the census be left in the pockets of the tax-ridden people. If Mr. Lamb be reported correctly, something is the matter with him. If not, then Justice Lamar's words: "The South doesn't expect to be fairly represented in the North," appear on the wall.

SENATOR JOHN SHERMAN made a speech in Ohio yesterday in advocacy of the election of Foraker—who had proved a traitor to him in the last national republican convention—in which he laid great stress upon the necessity of free and fair elections, and of the preservation of law and order. And yet this identical Mr. Sherman is on record as saying, in a speech in the United States Senate, that "any thing is justifiable in law and morals that will beat down the democratic party." And Mr. Sherman's course in the Eliza Pinkston and Weber letter matter, in 1876, shows that he acts in accordance with that idea.

EX SENATOR RIDDLEBERGER, in a recent public speech, said a postmaster in his district, a storekeeper, told him the reason he got his appointment was the fact that "he bought a great many goods of Wanamaker." This is a most serious charge, and, what's more, it is believed by those who heard it. Mr. Riddleberger is a prominent republican, and his personal friends say his word is as good as his bond. It would seem that if Mr. Wanamaker were convinced of his innocence he would demand an explanation or an investigation. But he has done neither. On the contrary, he goes on appointing his own postmasters.

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11, 1889.
Mr. Edmund Burke, of Alexandria, is here to-day. He has just returned from a campaigning tour for General Mahone in Northumberland, Richmond, Prince William and Alexandria counties. He says that in all of them, except the latter, the republican party is solid, and that in the Northern Neck politics are all one way, and the democrats in such an evident minority that in some of the counties thereof they are as yet running no candidates for the legislature. In Alexandria county, he says, things are different, and that there the republicans are in bad condition. Another Virginia republican from the district referred to, an ex-member of Congress, hearing what Mr. Burke had said, remarked that it was very strange, and mentioned that Messrs. John Murphy and William Mayo, the two most prominent republicans in Westmoreland county, had pronounced against Mahone, that Mr. Curlett was heading an open revolt against the regular republican candidate for the legislature in Richmond and Lancaster counties, that editor Wolff, of that district, an original republican, will speak against Mahone at Louisa Courthouse on Monday next, and that several anti-Mahone negro clubs have already been organized in the district.

A gentleman here from Norfolk, who talked there recently with General Groner, one of the leaders of the republican kickers in Virginia, says the General told him he would not be surprised if Mahone were defeated by twenty-five thousand majority, and that there were one thousand anti-Mahone republicans in and immediately around Norfolk.

Among the strangers in the city to-day is General Lomax, superintendent of the Virginia Agricultural College at Blacksburg. When asked about the political prospects in his part of the State, he said that not only were the democrats there opposed to General Mahone, but, in addition, many republicans and some negroes, who dislike him on account of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, and that he thought the democratic majority in that district would be increased.

The lights templars who have lately over-run this city commenced leaving yesterday, and to-day there is a most perceptible diminution of them. There were so many, however, that all could not get away at once, and so, large numbers still remain. Most all will be gone by to-morrow night.

The Secretary of the Treasury made the following appointments in the internal revenue service to-day: John R. Honaker, gauger 6th Va.; T. G. Popham, gauger 6th Va.; A. G. Shaver, gauger 6th Va.; J. G. Richardson, 6th Va.

The following changes in the 4th class postoffices of Virginia were made to-day: Bellevue, Nansemond county, Tiberius C. Sykes appointed postmaster, vice A. P. Gerner, resigned; Seven Mile Ford, Smyth county, C. S. Booth, vice J. W. Duggan, jr., resigned.

Some of the employees in the government printing office here who bail from Virginia and whose names have been reported at democratic headquarters in this city, who were either appointed or retained by the democratic administration, and who last fall subscribed to the democratic election fund in their State, have now subscribed to the republican fund, and have become pronounced republicans. It is understood that all the Virginians in office here will have to go home to vote or be removed, and will be removed if they don't vote the republican ticket. Civil service reform is "a shilling."

Political assessments for the Mahone fund in Virginia are being openly made in all the government departments here, and so strong has been the pressure upon the President that he has promised to remove Commodore Brown, the commandant at the Norfolk navy yard, who refuses to run that yard as part of the Mahone machine, and to appoint Commodore Weaver, who will.

The Knights Templar.

The Knights Templar in Washington yesterday devoted much of the day to pleasure and recreation. All the home commanderies kept open house as did many of the visiting commanderies at their headquarters.

The barbecue at Schuetzen Park was a great event, and hundreds of knights rode out to the park in every form of conveyance. By three o'clock there were 5,000 people on the grounds, and when some time after the great hunk of beef meat were finished the crowd had grown so great that there was found some difficulty in feeding the large number on the grounds.

The visiting knights from St. Paul and Minneapolis called at the Treasury Department in a body and paid their respects to Secretary Windom.

The President gave a special reception yesterday to California Commandery K. C. of San Francisco; Oakland Commandery, of Oakland, Cal.; Golden Gate Commandery, of San Francisco, and Damascus Commandery, of Newark, N. J.

At 5 in the evening the District militia gave an exhibition drill in honor of the templar on the White lot. The Marine band was in attendance at the drill, as well as a number of other local bands.

Mrs. John A. Logan gave a special reception at noon at her residence, Calumet Place, just beyond the city limits, to the knights of Palestine Commandery No. 18, of New York, who left for home later in the day. In the evening Mrs. Logan for four hours held a public reception, which was attended by thousands of templars. There was a constant stream of callers coming and going, and the crush was so great that progress to the house was very slow. The grounds were handsomely illuminated and thrown open to the guests. Tents were erected on the lawn, from which punch and refreshments were served.

The visiting templars have begun to leave for their homes, and the outgoing trains are all well filled. There are still thousands of knights in the city, and they are spending the time sight-seeing and attending the many receptions and entertainments that are daily given in their honor. The public buildings are crowded throughout the day with visitors, and the capacity of the river steamboats is taxed to provide accommodations for those who desire to make pilgrimages to Mount Vernon. A grand banquet will be given the knights at Willard's Hall to-night.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR GRAND OFFICERS.—The Grand Encampment, in secret session in Washington at the Masonic Temple, yesterday elected the following officers to serve during the next three years: Very Eminent Sir J. P. S. Gobin, of Pennsylvania, most eminent grand master; Very Eminent Sir Hugh McCurdy, of Michigan, deputy grand master; Very Eminent Sir Warren L. Rue Thomas, of Kentucky, grand generalissimo; Very Eminent Sir Richard Hedley Lloyd, of California, grand captain general; Very Eminent Sir Henry Bates Soddard, of Texas, grand senior warden; Very Eminent Sir Nicholas Van Slyck, of Rhode Island, grand junior warden; Very Eminent Sir H. Wales Lines, of Connecticut, grand treasurer; Very Eminent Sir Wm. B. Isaacs, of Virginia, grand recorder. The Grand Encampment voted to hold the next convocation, three years hence, at Denver, Col. The vote stood: Denver 104, Louisville 96.

Patrick Whalen, 13 years old, employed as an elevator boy at Travers Bros.' twine factory, New York, was instantly killed yesterday evening. He was sweeping about a carding machine, and in some unaccountable manner was drawn into its rollers and horribly mangled. Many of the operatives were in the building at the time and when they heard the piercing shriek of the boy rushed to the machine only to see the little fellow's body crushed out of all semblance to human shape. The machinery was stopped and fragments of the boy's body had to be cut out from between the rollers and knives. Several of the hands fainted at the sight.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Hon. Saml. J. Randall has returned to Washington.

The keel of cruiser No. 7 is being laid at the Brooklyn navy-yard.
The independents and republicans of Baltimore last night nominated Major Alexander Shaw for mayor.

The departure of Prince Ferdinand from Sofia and his appointment of a regent during his absence has caused considerable surprise throughout Europe.

The great steel bridge of the Shore Line Railroad across the Thames River at New London, Conn., was dedicated yesterday afternoon. It has the longest draw span in the world and cost $1,600,000.

Services in memory of the late Congressman S. S. Cox were held in Cooper Union, New York city, last night. Ex President Cleveland presided, and paid a tribute to the deceased. Congressman Proctor Knott delivered the eulogy.

Captain Larimore, of the steamer Gratitude which arrived at Baltimore yesterday, reports having passed one of the Maryland police steamers, off Craighill channel, with three vessels in tow, having arrested them for illegal dredging. This is the first arrest of the season.

The steamship H. A. Hartman arrived at New York yesterday. Captain Walbridge reports that on September 25, in latitude 36, longitude 74 10, the vessel struck an immense whale and cut it in two. The ocean for more than a mile was covered with the cetacean's blood.

News has been received from Fair Bluff, Robeson county, N. C., that a day or two ago citizens of that town and surrounding section were startled by a deep rumbling noise in the heavens much resembling thunder. It was at first thought to be an explosion of dynamite, but is now known to have been either a meteoric explosion or the usual accompaniment of an earthquake shock. Some persons felt the vibrations of the earth.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Ex-Senator Riddleberger will address an anti-Mahone republican meeting in Richmond soon.

Rev. C. E. Donahoe, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, Fredericksburg, has been removed to Keyser, W. Va., to assume the pastorate of a larger church.

It is reported that Judge Robert W. Hughes will re-enter journalism when here tires from the bench of the United States District Court in less than two years.

In Richmond Wednesday night an entire workmen's republican club, with but two dissenting voices, decided to work against Mahone and vote for McKinney, the democratic candidate.

Henry Harris, colored, more widely known as "Black Hawk," who was recently sent to the penitentiary from Fairfax county for two years for burning Mr. Wells' straw stack near Centerville, died a few days ago.

A Tazewell correspondent of the Rosnoke Times tells this squirrel story: "Oscar Moore, of Abbs Valley, though not the champion has a record of 400 squirrels killed at one spot, 45 at one sitting. A man in his neighborhood has 500 to his credit which he sold in Pocahontas at 10 cents each."

The Richmond and Chesapeake Railroad Company, which proposes to run from Richmond to the mouth of the Potomac, held a meeting in Richmond yesterday and elected Charles W. Mackay president. The projectors of the road assert that work on it will be commenced at an early day, and energetically prosecuted.

The body of Maunch Powell, aged 65, a respected farmer in the Timber Ridge neighborhood, Rockbridge county, was found Tuesday night under his wrecked wagon, on an unused mountain road, near Cedar Grove. When last seen alive it was late Sunday evening. It is the theory that he was temporarily insane, and while driving carelessly about the mountains the wagon turned over, killing him.

Considerable excitement prevails at Fredericksburg over the disappearance of Capt. George E. Ward, a large Government contractor, who has been dyking the Rappahannock river at that point. It is generally supposed he has committed suicide, as from what can be learned, he was very heavily in debt and feared to meet his partner and bondsmen, Mr. B. D. Green, of Philadelphia, who went on Sunday to see him.

In Richmond yesterday a commission of lunacy was held on Mr. Woodford Beasley, a native of Caroline county. The case was a peculiar one. Mr. Beasley had on September 10th been adjudged a lunatic in Caroline county, and being sent to the asylum at Williamsburg, was not received, but was put under bonds and turned over to his friends. On his examination yesterday there was no indication of insanity. It was claimed by Mr. Beasley that the trouble arose out of some domestic disagreements. After hearing all the testimony the justices decided Mr. Beasley to be not insane, and he was discharged from custody.

Rescued from Fiends.

The thrilling story of the negro insurrection on the island of Navassa on Sept. 14 was told in Philadelphia yesterday by several of the intended victims of the mutineers, who were fortunate to escape butchery. The British steamship Dorian, which arrived there the previous night, brought six of the white officers of the Navassa Phosphate Company, against whom the attack was made. These survivors are C. D. Smith, M. D. C. W. Roby, H. A. Jones, H. N. Vail, John O'Rourke, and John Jacobson. They brought with them three colored men, who were among those friendly dummies who assisted in preserving their lives. They were rescued by the British man-of-war Forward, upon which they sailed from the island of Navassa to Kingston, Jamaica. C. W. Roby is an elderly man of robust physique, who was the first one of the officers of the company assaulted by the rioters. He was brutally hit on the head with clubs and left for dead in a ditch, where the negroes were working at the time. He has thirty stitches in his scalp where it was torn open by the blows. H. A. Jones has his face scarred with ugly cuts and bruises, and his scalp has likewise been sewed up in many places. He was attacked by the rioters while attempting to arrest one of the ringleaders under orders from Dr. Smith. He was knocked down by the mob, and stamped upon, kicked and beaten, and nearly clubbed to death. His escape with his life seems almost a miracle.

Do you value the health and comfort of your children? Then guard them against croup by taking hold of that cough or cold at the start, and relieving the inflammation with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It they have the whooping cough do what you can to alleviate their pain by giving them Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. All children love it.

Only baby all-wool Scotch Cheviot Pants, in plaid and stripes, at $3, cannot be equalled.

Episcopal Convention.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—In the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church to-day the committee on constitutional amendments submitted a report that they deemed it inexpedient to make any change in the representation to the General Convention or in the methods of voting. It was placed on the calendar.

Proportionate representation is one of the most important subjects to be acted upon by the present convention. The same committee reported in favor of allowing bishops to have the offices of the church set forth in modern tongues other than the English when the number of persons unacquainted with the English tongue is considerable. This also went on the calendar.

Resolutions of regret for the death of Bishop Vail, of Kansas, were adopted.

The House then took up the order of the day—the report on the Hymnal. The report was in favor of several changes in the present hymnal. Rev. Dr. Nelson presented the report and spoke in favor of its adoption. It was decided that the hymns should be called by numbers. Rev. Dr. Harwood, of Connecticut, moved that hymn No. 330 in the present hymnal be substituted for No. 5, in the proposed hymnal. The new hymn was similar to No. 331 excepting that the 21 verse had been omitted. The motion was carried.

The Czar's Visit.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The Czar and party arrived here this morning. Emperor William, several of the royal princes, Prince Bismarck and others received the Czar and Grand Duke at the station. He and Emperor William embraced repeatedly. After their greeting was over the Czar turned to Prince Bismarck and shook hands with him. He also held a brief conversation with the chancellor. The party then proceeded to the state carriages and drove through the Brandenburg gate and to the Russian Embassy. As the carriage passed the Brandenburg gate a park of artillery began firing a salute. The street along the route were plentifully decorated with flags and bunting, but the crowd did not cheer as the Czar passed along. The admirals attached to the British Channel squadron, which is now at Kiel, were present at the station when the Czar arrived and were saluted by him. Emperor William took his departure from the Russian Embassy after remaining there for but a few minutes. The Czar took luncheon with the German officers forming his special suite.

Horrible Death.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—An electric line-man met with a horrible death at the corner of Centre and Chambers street this afternoon, from contact with an electric light wire. He was employed by the Western Union company, and presented a terrible sight as he died on the net work of wires in mid-air, while the deadly fluid actually made his body sizzle and the blood pour out to the sidewalk and over the clothes of horrified spectators. The accident was witnessed by a large concourse of people. The man's body lay limp and motionless over the mass of wires attached to the crosspieces of the poles. The firemen brought out a ladder and went up with a pair of shears to cut the wires. The man was found to be dead.

Railroad Accident.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—A Martin's Ferry Chronicle Telegraph special says: A collision occurred two miles west of Bridgeport at 6:30 o'clock this morning between the miners' train of two passenger coaches containing about 70 miners, en route to the Wheeling Creek coal works, and a freight train of 21 cars south bound. Both locomotives were demolished and also two passenger cars and eight freight cars. Five trainmen and thirteen miners were injured, three of the latter fatally. The collision was caused by a misunderstanding on the part of the freight conductor. The engineers and firemen and many miners jumped and saved their lives.

Will not Renew the Lease.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Mr. Louis Sloes, President of the Alaska Commercial company, says the company's lease expires on the first of May next, but if the present state of affairs continues they will not want to renew it. The number of piratical vessels in Behring Sea is greater this year than formerly. The government cutter, Mr. Sloes says, is entirely powerless to watch the whole region. There have been probably 30,000 skins stolen by private sealing vessels, and fully 50,000 or 60,000 seals killed. Unless the company can be guaranteed absolute protection against illegal sealing, under no consideration will the lease be renewed.

The Steamship City of New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The big German steamship City of New York, which ran aground in Gadney's Channel on Wednesday night, still lies with her bow seventy feet in the mud. All the efforts of her engineers and the continued pulling of the twelve tugs that want to her assistance failing to pull the unfortunate ocean racer from her position, two steam lighters were sent to the vessel for the purpose of relieving her of the weight of her cargo. This work was well under way before one o'clock this afternoon. Another effort will be made to pull her off at high tide at 9:30 to-night.

Racing by Gaslight.

LANCASTER, O., Oct. 11.—Twenty thousand people attended the Fairfield county fair last night to witness the races by natural gas light. Twenty feet stand pipes at short intervals encircle the half mile track and dotted the entire grounds, with larger stand pipes within the track. The two largest wells in the country with capacities of 25,000 cubic feet and 15,000,000 cubic feet respectively were turned on to complete the illumination. In the midst of this display the famous trotter Guy, without a running mate, attempted to beat his record of 2:10, but failed.

Not Executed.

TUCSON, Ariz., Oct. 11.—Advices from Guaymas, Sonora, say that the report sent out Sept. 30 that J. K. Tallier, the leader of the gang who robbed a train on the Sonora railroad a year ago, had been shot by the authorities, is not true. A few minutes before the time set for the execution a message was received from the authorities at the City of Mexico ordering a suspension of the execution, and Tallier still lives. He had made a desperate effort at suicide by strangulation and on the day of his execution could not stand on his feet.

Lynched.

WAY CROSS, Ga., Oct. 11.—Wm. Moore, a negro train hand on the Savannah, Florida and Western road, was taken from the train at Jessup by a posse of citizens yesterday and lynched. While passing that place Wednesday he had some words with a citizen and as the train pulled out he threw a stone which struck a bystander. A posse waited for his arrival yesterday and taking him off the train, made short work of him.

Floods.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Disastrous floods prevail in the department of the Jura and many bridges have been carried away. Mone la Saulnier, the capital of the department, is surrounded, and a number of villages are surrounded by water. The military are actively engaged in saving life and property.

The Anson, one of the vessels forming the British Channel squadron now at Kiel, is aground in that harbor. She went ashore on a rock and has a hole in her bottom. The Anson is a double screw steel armor barbed ship of 10,600 tons. Her engines are of 11,500 horse power. She carries ten guns.

Among the passengers who arrived at New York, this morning, was Rt. Rev. Denis O'Connell, rector of the American College at Rome. He will represent the Pope at the ceremonies attending the centennial of the American Catholic hierarchy on November 10 and the Catholic congress on November 11 and 12 at Baltimore. He will also attend the opening of the Catholic University at Washington on November 13.

The latest returns show that the republicans in Washington have elected 135 of the 169 members of the legislature. The democrats have 27 members and the independents 7. By a recent the democrats have lost a senator in Jefferson county, Montana. This leaves the upper house of the legislature a tie; but the democrats will have a majority of 7 on joint ballot.

A New York evening paper says that Tammany Hall offered to make ex-President Cleveland its candidate for Congress to succeed the late S. S. Cox, but that Mr. Cleveland declined. The same paper says that Amos J. Cummings is now slated for the position.

The decision of Judge Shepard, who refused to make permanent the injunction restraining the Chicago Board of Trade from delivering to Mr. Wallace large quantities of green October pork, was to-day upheld by the Appellate Court.

Farmers will find that Salvation Oil is a sure remedy for frost-bitten feet. All druggists keep it. It is sold for 25 cents a bottle.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

The week in this vicinity has been given up to attendance upon the Templar festivities in Washington, and consequently business has been quiet. Money matters are in no particular changed, stocks and bonds being quiet, and money in demand for legitimate purposes only, and no speculative feeling is manifest. There is more firmness in the grain market, and the advance in prices has been a joy to the farmer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The stock market was dull and stagnant throughout to-day, with a downward movement, which became most pronounced toward 11 o'clock, when the market was active and weak, generally at the lowest prices reached, though the general list was only a shade below opening prices. Money tight at 6.7.
